Dusti Gurule is the Regional Representative for Secretary of Labor, Hilda L. Solis in the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. In her position, Gurule serves as liaison to state and local government officials and community stakeholders, and is responsible for amplifying key programs and initiatives of the department.

"I am delighted to welcome Dusti to the Labor Department team," said Secretary Solis. "Her years of community experience reflect her ability to work cooperatively and effectively with labor, business and government, and her commitment to educating workers about their rights. Her knowledge and skills will be valuable in our efforts on behalf of America's working people."

Prior to her appointment, she was Executive Director of the Latina Initiative building the organization to a nationally recognized civic engagement organization. She also received the Civil Rights Award from NEWSED CDC, was named one of '50 for the Future' by The Colorado Statesman, was named one of Colorado's most politically influential Latinos by 5280 Magazine, and one of Colorado's Influential Women of 2008 by Denver Women's Examiner. She was also named one of 21 Leaders for the 21st Century by Women's ENews and Mujer de Impacto by the Latina Chamber in 2009.
